

MICHIGAN MEDICINE

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

REGIONAL ALLIANCE FOR HEALTHY SCHOOLS

The Regional Alliance for Healthy Schools (RAHS) has been serving the community for 21 years. RAHS' 11 school-based health centers in Washtenaw and Genesee Counties serve as a "safety-net" for students and youth in the community at-large. RAHS offers comprehensive physical and behavioral health services to youth ages 5-21 year-round, regardless of where they are enrolled in school or insurance status/ability to pay. RAHS provides physical and mental health services, evidenced-based health prevention programs, on-site dental service coordination, vision exams and glasses, insurance enrollment, and tangible resources assistance.

5

New comprehensive school-based health centers were opened in Genesee County

3,178

Adolescents received services

10,959

Annual visits were conducted

196

Students received dental screenings and services

58

Students participated in a RAHS Youth Advisory Council, outreach and prevention programming

413

Students received vision screenings and services

72% Of students who participated in classroom prevention education improved in at least 3 of the following areas: relationships, handling problems, ATOD* use, handling feelings, attitude toward school, peer refusal skills

6,336

Students and community members received health education through 200+ sessions

1,800

Families were assisted with tangible resource coordination

20,960 Community members received Medicaid outreach from RAHS staff

*Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drugs